The amount of a grant awarded will be determined by the number of applicants and the available funds at the Foundation's disposal. Individual grant sizes may vary, to not exceed $10,000, except through special fundraising events such as a golf tournament.

How to Apply

We accept applications through our online portal from April 1 – November 30 each year for programs that:

- Align with our focus areas
- Deliver meaningful, measurable outcomes
- Are led by qualified nonprofits

Only applications submitted via the online portal by the application deadline, November 30, at midnight, will be considered for funding. Emailed, mailed, hardcopy or faxed submissions will not be considered.

We also invite select organizations to apply based on community needs.

How and When We Decide

Applications are evaluated during the first quarter of the year following application submission and are based on:

- Impact and outcomes
- Value of investment
- Risk and sustainability
- Long-term community benefit

Georgia's Own Foundation receives many worthwhile requests but cannot accommodate them all. More competitive proposals will specifically identify programs and projects that meet our funding focus of empowering local youth.
